Increase your profit opportunities on small jobs of 1 cubic yard or less by using our new MIDWEST LANDSCAPERS PRO™

No more mess: No more dumping a bulk pile, no more stains on hard surfaces and no more tracking footprints. Keep things clean and organized – get in and out quicker. No extra clean up after the product is installed, then easily return extra bags to your yard or keep in the truck as backup.

Easy touch-ups: No need to use valuable resources sending someone back to your yard to get additional mulch. Have a couple extra bags on hand for easy touch-ups and back up. Maintenance can be done on the spot when homeowners ask, and maintenance crews can keep extra bags in their truck at all times.

Save time and money: Make loading, unloading and installation faster and easier by using bags. Without a bulk pile you won't have to shovel as much. Who doesn't want less shoveling? This also means crews can work more efficiently – reducing time spent on the job and saving you valuable labor hours.

100% volume accuracy: Forget about questioning small loads measured with an end loader; know exactly what you're buying and exactly what you're installing. Don't risk your crews bringing too much or too little to the jobsite. (Our LoadScan has 100% volume accuracy for your full semi loads of certain products)

Increase efficiency: Getting the job done quicker, more safely and more accurately, will allow you more time to get more jobs done with less labor.

Minimize risk: You won't have to unhook your trailer or dump a bulk pile when using bags, which increases overall safety for workers. Less chance for injury makes the job safer and easier. Cut down on business risk and increase reward.

Less wear and tear on your equipment: Less unhooking trailers and dumping bulk piles helps extend the life of your equipment. Less wear and tear means less maintenance and fewer repairs. Save your time and money for something else.

Increase versatility: Have a variety of bagged products on your truck without having to separate them or run the risk of products mixing together. Increase your versatility and make your life easier.

Weather tolerant: With bagged products you can worry less about bad weather. Weather resistance gives you more convenience and less delay. Don't let the weather dampen your work; stay ahead of the game by having a game plan; use bagged products.
